The workbook that you have purchased today has been designed to address the historical accounts we have learned from the authentic Sunnah about Islam. You and your family will be presented with the geographical area and information about those areas to bring into focus the types of land mass being discussed. You will have opportunity to look at the battles that ensued during the time of the messenger (salla allahu alaihi wa sallaam), and then finally at how adhering to the Sunnah from past to present has helped us along the way Alhamdulillah. We hope that you enjoy and benefit from the information as much as we have, an invite your suggestions and comments for additional workbooks and other text for future publications.
